– Reaffirmed (Sunset Report 2021)

Position on Physician Assisted Suicide

MSMS adopts the following position of the American Medical Association on physician assisted suicide:

“Physician-assisted suicide occurs when a physician facilitates a patient’s death by providing the necessary means and/or information to enable the patient to perform the life-ending act (e.g., the physician provides sleeping pills and information about the lethal dose, while aware that the patient may commit suicide).

It is understandable, though tragic, that some patients in extreme duress—such as those suffering from a terminal, painful, debilitating illness—may come to decide that death is preferable to life. However, permitting physicians to engage in assisted suicide would ultimately cause more harm than good.

Physician-assisted suicide is fundamentally incompatible with the physician’s role as healer, would be difficult or impossible to control, and would pose serious societal risks.

Instead of engaging in assisted suicide, physicians must aggressively respond to the needs of patients at the end of life. Physicians:

- (a) Should not abandon a patient once it is determined that cure is impossible.
- (b) Must respect patient autonomy.
- (c) Must provide good communication and emotional support.
- (d) Must provide appropriate comfort care and adequate pain control.”

ETHICS

(See also: Discrimination; End of Life Care)

AMA Principles

AMA Principles of Medical Ethics

MSMS supports the AMA Principles of Medical Ethics:

“The medical profession has long subscribed to a body of ethical statements developed primarily for the benefit of the patient. As a member of this profession, a physician must recognize responsibility to patients first and foremost, as well as to society, to other health professionals, and to self. The following Principles adopted by the American Medical Association are not laws, but standards of conduct, which define the essentials of honorable behavior for the physician.

Principles

- I. A physician shall be dedicated to providing competent medical care with compassion and respect for human dignity and rights.
- II. A physician shall uphold the standards of professionalism, be honest in all professional interactions, and strive to report physicians deficient in character or competence, or engaging in fraud or deception, to appropriate entities.
- III. A physician shall respect the law and also recognize a responsibility to seek changes in those requirements which are contrary to the best interests of the patient.
- IV. A physician shall respect the rights of patients, colleagues, and other health professionals, and shall safeguard patient confidences and privacy within the constraints of the law.

- V. A physician shall continue to study, apply and advance scientific knowledge, maintain a commitment to medical education, make relevant information available to patients, colleagues and the public, obtain consultation, and use the talents of other health professionals when indicated.
 - VI. A physician shall, in the provision of appropriate patient care except in emergencies, be free to choose whom to serve, with whom to associate, and the environment in which to provide medical care.
 - VII. A physician shall recognize a responsibility to participate in activities contributing to the improvement of the community and the betterment of public health.
 - VIII. A physician shall, while caring for a patient, regard responsibility to the patient as paramount.
 - IX. A physician shall support access to medical care for all people.”

Medical Treatment Decisions and Persons with Disabilities

Persons with disabilities, unless they are subject to a guardian or conservator, have the right to make their own medical decisions, including the choice of treatment alternatives. Persons with disabilities and if necessary, a guardian, conservator, or patient advocate, are best served when provided with comprehensive information to assist in making informed decisions.

When questions with respect to the patient's best interest are raised by the patient's physician, or the hospital bioethics committee, protections provided by local agencies and courts may be invoked to evaluate fair choices.

Physicians and hospitals can aid by:

1. Providing counsel to patients, families, physicians, and agencies charged with individual decisions.
2. Confidential review of decision-making experiences.
3. Aiding in the development of guidelines regarding this process.

Family Planning Services

MSMS supports the concept that family planning services are a basic health service and funds should be earmarked to support those services.

Universal family planning is an essential element of responsible parenthood, stable family life and social harmony.

The very personal nature of advice and counseling in family planning makes it mandatory that consideration be given to the patient's wishes and desires, and to ethnic and religious background. The professional must be prepared to counsel on all aspects of family planning, either in assisting a couple to have a family, or postponing additions to their family. Expert counseling in all techniques, such as rhythm, barrier, hormone or tubal ligation must be available.

Consistent with responsible preventive medicine and in the interest of reducing the incidence of teenage pregnancy, the following is recommended:

- a. The teenage minor whose sexual behavior exposes her to possible conception should have access to medical consultation and the most effective contraceptive advice and methods consistent with her physical and emotional needs.
- b. The physician so consulted should be free to prescribe or withhold contraceptive advice in accordance with his or her best medical judgment in the best interests of the patient.

Preferred Provider Organizations

Preferred provider organizations should promote fee for service medicine, balance the marketing advantage of other financial mechanisms and encourage innovations to control health care costs. Physicians should analyze preferred provider organizations based on the following:

1. The PPO plan must assess and maintain quality care and ready access to the system by a peer review mechanism designed by and supported by practicing physicians. In order to assure quality care all PPO’s must have independent outside peer review by physicians.

2. The PPO plan should address overall health care costs to the community including medical education, tertiary care facilities and catastrophic illness. It should not merely be a cost cutting mechanism within its selected population. Access and quality of care should not be sacrificed in favor of cost containment.
3. The PPO plan must assure the physician’s role as the advocate of the needs of each patient. The physician should not be placed in an adversarial position by acting as an agent for the health plan.
4. PPO planning must recognize the role of the physician as the expert in selecting health care for patients. The doctor should select an overall cost-effective treatment plan rather than provide services based solely on the lowest costs.
5. The PPO plan should reinforce the concept of a continuing relationship between physician and patient.
6. Physicians must be actively involved in the planning, organization and management of all plans involving delivery of health care services.
7. Preferred provider plans should provide incentives for consumers to make cost effective choices for their own health care.
8. Physicians should have access to detailed information concerning their own “practice profile.”
9. Advertising for any PPO must be fair, objective and truthful. It should clearly state any limitations in services to be delivered.
10. All PPO plans should make provisions for “freedom of choice” of physicians by the individual patients. This should be accomplished by including reasonable co-payments and deductibles for patients using physicians outside the plan.
11. Preferred provider legislation should be flexible so that innovation in PPO systems can be developed. It should encourage new organizations by health care professionals.
12. All provider-sponsored PPO’s should be exempted from regulations imposed on third party carriers.

Physician's Relationship with License Limited Practitioners

A physician should at all times practice a method of healing founded on a scientific basis. A physician may refer a patient for diagnostic or therapeutic services to another physician, licensed limited practitioner, or any other provider of health care services permitted by law to furnish such services whenever the physician believes that this will benefit the patient. As in the case of referrals to physician specialists, referrals to license limited practitioners should be based on their individual competence and ability to perform services needed by the patient.

Testimonials should not be used in advertising as such claims tend to mislead the public. In addition, the Society supports Section 16265 of the Michigan Public Health code which states:

"1) An individual licensed under this article to engage in the practice of chiropractic, dentistry, medicine, optometry, osteopathic medicine and surgery, podiatric medicine and surgery, psychology, or veterinary medicine shall not use the terms doctor or dr. in any written or printed matter or display without adding thereto of chiropractic, of dentistry, of medicine, of optometry, or of osteopathic medicine and surgery, of psychology, of veterinary medicine or a similar term, respectively."

Physician Rights and Responsibilities Regarding Collaboration with Non-Physician Practitioners

MSMS supports requirements to recognize the following: (1) employers of nonphysician practitioners have the financial and administrative responsibility to provide work and staffing conditions that offer a safe level of collaboration in the independent medical judgment of the collaborative physician and timely and safe level of oversight in the independent medical judgment of on-site physicians who may be asked to verify with or without attestation to medical acts of the nonphysician practitioner; (2) that on-site physicians may verify a medical task performed by a nonphysician practitioner provided that the verifying physician is present for key portions of any patient care task or procedure verified (similar to the standards for the verification of resident physician care); (3) that on-site physicians may only attest, through signature or other written documentation, to tasks, procedures, and elements of patient care that they have verified; (4) that the attestation of tasks, procedures, and patient care notes for patients whom the physician has not seen and a request from the employer that a physician attest to care that the physician has not participated in may constitute a breach of ethics or 5 contract on the part of the employer; and (5) that, to ensure a safe level of patient care provided by nonphysician practitioners, on-site physicians who formally agree to be available for verification or attestation of medical acts by nonphysician practitioners have adequate time set aside from other professional responsibilities and duties to perform the verification and attestation function as determined by the respective physician's independent medical judgment and receive adequate compensation to account for the loss of individual productivity and lost revenue due to the verification and attestation functions. Standards for Collaborative Agreements

MSMS affirms the urgency of defining standards for "collaborative agreements" with advanced practice registered nurses (APRN)s and that MSMS seek and support legislation that would require APRNs to work in a setting and perform tasks and procedures that are within the collaborating physician's particular field of medicine, as qualified by residency training and/or board certification to perform.

MSMS believes: (1) the decision to collaborate must be made voluntarily, not as a condition of employment, and with a formal collaborative practice; (2) physicians who enter into collaborative or practice agreements with APRNs or physician assistants (PAs) from a location outside of Michigan must be available to answer questions and directly collaborate with the non-physician practitioners (NPPs), or to examine the patient, during a majority of the hours of activity of the APRN and/or PA via video conferencing; (3) physicians should be allowed to fully participate in the recruitment, selection, hiring, performance evaluation and firing decisions regarding NPPs with whom they have a collaborative agreement; (4) physicians engaged in collaborative agreement have adequate time set aside from other professional responsibilities and duties to perform the collaborative function as determined by the respective physician's independent medical judgment; and (5) physicians engaged in collaborative agreements be entitled to receive adequate compensation to account for the loss of individual productivity and lost revenue due to the collaborative function. Guidelines for Physician-Hospital Relations

1. Hospital-employed physicians should be included as members of the organized medical staff and should be subject to its bylaws, rules, and regulations. The following provisions should be included in organized medical staff bylaws:
“The credentials committee (or other appropriate committee) shall cooperate with the governing board in reviewing the credentials of all physician applicants for employment by the hospital to assure that such employees qualify for regular membership on the medical staff. The procedures followed in processing applications for regular medical staff appointment and for continued staff privileges shall be applicable to and have control over such employed physicians.”
2. The organized medical staff should include proper safeguards in all appropriate sections of the medical staff bylaws, rules, and regulations to make certain that they apply to all physicians serving on the organized medical staff, including those employed by the hospital.
3. While organized medical staff bylaws must be approved by the governing board and, for this reason, are considered to be binding on the governing board, it would appear desirable to include a provision in any contracts with physicians, as well as in the organized medical staff bylaws, to assure the desired result. The following is suggested:
“In accordance with and subject to the procedures of the organized medical staff, Doctor _____ is granted and accepts appointment as a member of the organized medical staff. This Agreement shall terminate automatically if the staff privileges of Doctor _____ are revoked upon recommendation of the organized medical staff.”
4. If there is no organized democratic departmental structure which allows for communication and input, the organized medical staff should establish an advisory committee to counsel and assist the administrator in carrying out his or her responsibilities.
5. Where the employment of a full-time physician to carry out departmental administrative and operational functions is being considered, it is recommended that consideration be given to employing this physician as an administrative assistant to the elected chief with the delegated functions appropriately spelled out in the organized medical staff or departmental bylaws.
6. Organized medical staffs in all types of non-federal hospitals should be alert to the potential dangers of governing board dominance over the executive committee and the need for careful bylaw structuring of the executive committee to prevent this.

7. It is emphasized that organized medical staffs should take a firm stand against governing board control of organized medical staff activities related to patient care.
8. State and local medical societies are urged to supplement AMA's effort to assist and offer support to organized medical staffs involved in negotiations with governing boards and administrations. (Prior to 1990)

MSMS supports the requirement of physicians who provide diagnostic or therapeutic services on a regular, ongoing or contractual basis via electronic or other communications to patients in a hospital setting within Michigan to be fully credentialed by that hospital's medical staff in accordance with the medical staff bylaws.

MSMS supports the requirement of physicians who provide diagnostic or therapeutic services on a regular ongoing or contractual basis to patients in a hospital setting within Michigan solely via electronic or other distant communications (and so would not otherwise ever have any direct personal interaction with the remainder of the medical staff) be credentialed as active members of that hospital's medical staff and be held to the same standards of requisite responsibilities as other active members of the medical staff. Administration of Immunizations

The immunization of children and adults for prophylaxis against infectious diseases is best performed at the direction of physicians involved in continuing care of the individual, taking into account the risks and benefits accruing to the individual. A concerted effort should be made by physicians to ensure that patients begin pediatric immunizations at the earliest medically appropriate time and that patients finish their series. Guidelines and schedules produced by scientific groups and/or governmental agencies, while often helpful, should not be regarded as overriding the exercise of informed decision-making by the physician where the welfare of his or her patient is involved.

Recognizing that circumstances occur in which immunization should be given under other auspices, the common good should be served with due regard for the concerns of the individual. Immunization programs thus carried out under other auspices should be developed with appropriate input from physicians and in concert with the laws regulating medical practice.

Mass programs should, to the greatest possible degree, defer to successful and affordable approaches to immunization, which do not remove individuals from regular sources of care and should not scatter the individual’s immunization record.

A uniform statewide record should be utilized and the parent/guardian should be provided with a cumulative copy of the record. An entry should be made into this record at the time of each immunization. (Prior to 1990)

MSMS Position on Informed Consent

MSMS strongly endorses the principle of informed consent for medical treatment. Patients have a right to participate in decisions regarding their health care to the extent that they wish; and they have a right to the information necessary for meaningful participation.

However, a right to the information necessary to participate to the extent that the patient desires does not imply that patients should be forced to accept information deemed relevant by an outside party. Respect for patient's rights entails respecting a patient's desires to receive or not receive particular items of information.

In order to respect patients' rights in a compassionate manner, information disclosure should be tailored to the particular needs and desires of the particular patient. MSMS opposes regulatory interference in the physician-patient relationship, either to prohibit the physician from discussing certain information, or requiring that certain information be disclosed in all cases regardless of patient circumstances.

MSMS also believes that current law requires informed consent for all medical treatment and offers adequate recourse if consent is not obtained. Therefore, the Society sees no need for specific legislation mandating informed consent for particular procedures or diseases. (Board-Sept91)

MAPS Mandate Policy Statement

Prescription drug and opioid use is a critical issue facing the state of Michigan and the country. MSMS supports efforts to encourage physicians and other health care providers to check the MAPS when prescribing controlled substances. Until integration of clinical systems can provide seamless real-time integration of MAPS data into an electronic health record, government-mandated use of MAPS should be limited to controlled substances that are documented to be at highest risk of being abused, specifically opioids, benzodiazepines, and carisoprodol, or when there is a suspicion of nefarious intent on behalf of the patient. Minimally, exceptions should be allowed when the drug is prescribed or personally furnished to a hospice patient or to any other patient who has been diagnosed as terminally ill. Other exceptions may be considered if all the following conditions are met:

- The drug is not an opioid, benzodiazepine, or carisoprodol;
- The drug has a low risk of abuse;
- The drug is prescribed for purposes other than the treatment of pain;
- The drug is prescribed as a maintenance medication for an established patient who has been diagnosed with a chronic condition (and the use of such drug is medically indicated for that condition) and is monitored by the prescriber on a regular basis.
